

i don't want to return to getting 20 calls a week from telemarketers, I don't like my phone being tied up for stupid phone calls If I wanted to buy something I would call them myself. I really can't afford to get privacy manager because of being on a fixed income since husband is on disability, I get enough phone calls now from different people wanting me to donate.